About The Instructor Nilufar Rahman MFA

Growing up with a father who was a creative writer, Renowned Artist Nilufar Rahman has been exposed to the arts since childhood. This passion for creativity drove her to pursue Art as a profession.

Along with Bachelor's in Education, Ms. Rahman is an honor's graduate from the Mason Gross School of Arts. She holds a Master's and Bachelor's degree in Fine Art from Rutgers university. Nilufar is also a licensed Art Instructor. She has exhibited her works throughout the world including Russia, India, Bangladesh, and the U.S.

Fifteen years ago, Nilufar decided to share her talent with the community through private art lessons. She has taught art to all age groups, from Pre-K to Senior Citizens throughout New Jersey.

Today, many of Nilufar's students are pursuing Art in college; some have graduated and are employed as Graphic Designers, Architects, Art Teachers, while others continue to hone their skills as a hobby.
